OYAMA SAYS LIAO-YANG HAS FALLEN

The Japanese Are Now in Complete Possession.

CESSATION OF FIERCE FIGHTING

It is Reported in St. Petersburg That Kuropatkin Has Arrived at Tieling, Which Is Eighteen Miles South of Mukden.

The only direct news from the seat of war heard Sunday's date came by way of Tokio, in a report from Field Marshal Oyama, saying that Liao Yang fell completely in the hands of the Japanese at nine o'clock that morning; that the Japanese casualties were believed to be heavy, and that nothing was known by the Japanese concerning conditions on the right bank of the Taitse river.

The only comfort for the Russians at home was the news conveyed in a dispatch from Kuropatkin, dated Saturday afternoon, that Gen. Stakelberg's first Siberian army corps of 55,000 men, reported Saturday as having been cut off to the westward of Liao Yang, had been safely extricated, and that the corps has succeeded in joining the main Russian body on the right bank of the river, but no details of the escape of Stakelberg are known.

Gen. Kuropatkin also reported that the greater portion of his army was, at the time of filing the report, south of Yental (ten miles northeast of Liao Yang), and a few miles from the Kentai mines, where fierce fighting had been in progress. It is indicated that there has been a cessation of the fierce fighting. Kuropatkin reports that his men were not being much interfered with by the Japanese in the neighborhood of his army.

In St. Petersburg, the absence of news is looked upon as heightening the gravity of the situation for the Russians.

It was reported in St. Petersburg, Sunday night, that Kuropatkin had arrived at Tieling, which is ten miles north of Yental, and 18 miles south of Mukden.

ALL TOKIO REJOICES.

Populace Madly Cheer the Exploits of Field Marshal Oyama.

Tokio, Sept. 5.—Beyond Field Marshal Oyama's dispatch reporting the occupation of Liao Yang, and the commencement of Gen. Kuroki's turning movement against the Russian left, nothing further concerning the battle of Liao Yang had reached Tokio Sunday. Neither the number of Russians who succeeded in escaping nor the number encompassed by Gen. Kuroki's turning movement is known here. The severity of the Russian defeat hinges largely on Kuroki's movement. If successful, the number of Russian prisoners will be large. The meager reports received indicate that the soldiers of both armies went to the limit of human endurance and suffered terribly. It was impossible constantly to supply them with food and water, and the men have fought for days past, starving and parched with thirst. Although full details are lacking, the duration of the fighting, the numbers engaged, and the losses so far reported, indicate that Liao Yang will prove to be one of the greatest battles of history.

The dispatch received from Field Marshal Oyama announcing the fall of Liao Yang had the effect of cheering all of the subjects of the Mikado. Throughout the rejoicings here, following the early successes of Japanese arms at Liao Yang, the more thoughtful people feared the results of the exposure to which the right wing of Gen. Kuroki's army was subjected, and it was held possible that the strength of the Liao Yang fortifications would permit the withdrawal of the bulk of the Russian forces there. Even now there is doubt concerning the number of Russians who have escaped, but there is no doubt about the character of the victory at Liao Yang.

Tokio is brilliantly illuminated, and joyful crowds parade the streets, cheering the exploits of Field Marshal Oyama and Generals Oku and Nodzu.

ST. PETERSBURG IS DISAPPOINTED.

Public Confidence in Kuropatkin Is Severely Shaken.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 5.—There is bitter disappointment, probably the keenest of the whole land campaign, over the situation at the front. Up to Liao Yang, the retreating from and the abandonment of positions had been expected, and that much the public and the officials thought they knew of Gen. Kuropatkin's plan of campaign.

REFUSED TO ACCEPT OFFICE

Chinese Merchant Didn't Want to Be Mayor, Thought Urged to Accept by Citizens.

Mexico City, Sept. 5.—Wong Kin Yuen, a Chinese merchant, resident at Quintaro, in the state of Tlaxcala, has refused to accept the office of mayor of that place, although urged to do so by the principal residents of the town. He declined the office, it is said, on account of his nationality, although he is now a naturalized citizen of Mexico.

The "Equity" Price of Wheat.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—The American Society of Equity, which, in 1903, issued the famous "dollar-wheat bulletin," has issued a "1904 bulletin," setting the minimum price for this season's wheat crop at $1.20 a bushel.

On Their Way To The Fair.

St. Louis, Sept. 4.—About 4,000 members of the Uniform Rank of Modern Woodmen are on their way to St. Louis to take part in the celebration of Woodmen's week, which begins Monday, at the World's fair.

Had Liao Yang been abandoned without a fight, the public at least would have looked forward patiently to a decisive stand at Mukden, but after a desperate battle, with victory for the instant apparently in sight, to find Liao Yang abandoned, its immense stores captured or destroyed, and the retreat continued under the most adverse conditions, severe, tries public confidence in the commander-in-chief.

At this hour even, the authorities know little more than what has already been given to the public. There is still much doubt as to whether Kuropatkin is continuing his retreat, or whether indeed he has been able to do so, but the public, so far, is not aware of Gen. Stakelberg's narrow escape from being cut off.

The situation, as it is known to date, is that the Russian army is south of the branch railway connecting Yental station, ten miles east of Liao Yang, with the Yental mines, where fierce fighting has been in progress.

Actual fighting seems to have been suspended for the moment, the armies resting after their terrific and continuous exertions of the past ten days, the longest single battle in history, and it will depend upon their respective recuperative powers as to which will first be able to resume activity.
